

With his charismatic voice, boundless energy, and knack for creating unforgettable moments, Sam Budja conquered Europe´s biggest stages for years as the frontman of The Baseballs. But now, a whole new chapter begins for the Reutlingen native. Personal. Emotional. German-language.

The concerts in May 2026 are a musical journey to the origins of classic entertainment?inspired by legends like Sinatra, Bublé, and of course, Elvis, but thoroughly imbued with Sam Budja´s own unique style: personal, warm, energetic, and always approachable. His promise: ´I want to touch people, open their hearts, and give them an evening full of music, emotions, and real stories.´

The audience can expect an atmospheric live show with depth?a blend of moving moments, witty anecdotes, great melodies, and intimate songs. Sam Budja will host, perform, and tell stories?a show that combines modern pop music, retro charm, and genuine feelings. An artist caught between two worlds - and on his way to finding himself.
